

“Musicians hear music differently than non-musicians. They listen differently and can hear what other people typically overlook in a song.”

www.musiciansunite.com

And here’s a big one for ya!!!

Most of the music you hear when you are out at a club or dancing to a band somewhere is 4/4 time. That means that there are 4 beats in each bar of the music. When people clap to the music and inordinate number clap on the 1 and the 3 INSTEAD of the proper way of the 2 and the 4... this throws the musicians off and does nothing to help them. So before you start clapping to the music... make sure you are clapping on the 2 and 4.

Clapping on beats 2 and 4 (the "backbeat") creates a rhythmic, energetic groove common in pop, rock, and jazz, while clapping on 1 and 3 (the "downbeat") feels more like a march or folk music. While 1 and 3 are technically strong beats, 2 and 4 provide the "swing" and tension that makes music feel danceable.

It also helps the band if you clap on 2 and 4... that’s where they are and it is miles apart!
